

Distributed Intelligent Systems and Technologies

In the period of 8-10 June 2009 in Saint-Petersburg State Polytechnic University international conference dedicated to the problems in the sphere of distributed intelligent systems and technologies took place.

Apart of Russian specialists, academics, specialists, young candidates, aspirants and students participated from different countries took part in conference.

At sum 64 participants took part in this conference, 7 countries were represented: Finland, Germany, Italy, USA, Columbia, China and Russia; 25 lecturers reported their presentations.

Conference opening ceremony

Registration of participants

Plenary meeting, 08.June, professor Bruno Apolloni from University of Milan, Italy, is presenting

Plenary meeting, 08.June, professor L.A.Stankevich, SpbSTU, is presenting

Youth section, 09.June, DIS-department aspirant Timur Chernykh is presenting

Youth section, 09.June, DIS-department aspirant Joshua Grov is presenting

As the result the best reports of students and aspirants were selected for participating in national program “Participant of the youth scientific-innovative competition”, two participants – Timur Chernykh and Aleksey Makarov were chosen by international committee as the winners of the program.